

Office Skills Diploma

Enhance or change your career
for the better

Practical work-ready skills to help get you an office job

Employers are always on the lookout for people with practical, work-ready skills who can add value to their business from day one. So if you've just left college, are wanting to work in an office environment or are coming back in to the world of employment, the Office Skills Diploma could be the ideal training for you.

You'll learn a wide range of essential skills which will make you stand out in any office, including great IT skills, how to speak the language of business and even how to balance cash books.

A great foundation for success

Most businesses use the same software packages and handle the day to day running of their office in much the same way. So that's why our Office Skills Diploma has been designed to teach you the basic skills you will need to a level demanded by most employers, including computer keyboard skills, Microsoft Office and book-keeping. What's more, to ensure you understand how a business works and how to communicate effectively with other employees, your diploma will also cover communication at work and health and safety. So with your completed diploma, you'll have a great breadth of skills and the confidence to work in many different office based roles.

What will you get in return?

A Pitman Training Diploma is one of the most prestigious courses you can complete from one of the most highly regarded training organisations across the world. Businesses throughout the UK recognise the Pitman Training name as a sign that you have been trained to the very highest level. So with your Office Skills Diploma, you'll have world-class skills to get a job as a highly valued, well-paid office assistant.

"After I was made redundant from my retail job, I decided I wanted a new career in office admin. The Office Skills Diploma was great and as a result, I found a position working for an oil company even before I finished my course"
